We serve the solution

temp-rite International is a partner you can rely on to deliver innovative and sustainable solutions in the field of meal distribution.

temp-rite is double ISO-certified!

Quality management:

Hospitals, old people's homes and other care-providing institutions attach great importance to the quality of the services and products their suppliers deliver. temp-rite's Quality Management System meets all the requirements set out in DIN EN ISO 9001.

Umweltbewusstsein:

temp-rite Germany also has DIN EN ISO 14001 environmental certification. This underlines just how seriously we take protecting the environment, and achieving a sustainable balance between commercial and ecological considerations.

The advantages of Temp-Royal at a glance

All meal components are held in separate, thermally insulated compartments.
– That means both cold and warm meal components are kept at an appetizing temperature and will comply with legally binding HACCP requirements.

Temp-Royal insulated trays can be used for breakfast, midday and evening meal services, and have compartments for extra side dishes.

A variety of chinaware articles can be used, and disposable and reusable dishware items are also available.

The stacked system trays take up little space.

Easy to clean, and sturdily constructed for a long service life.
